Guidance concerning withdrawal of consent.

Text to be inserted in contexts where we request/have been granted consent for processing personal data:

“The consent you have given may be withdrawn. A withdrawal will not affect the terms of your employment. You may withdraw consent by contacting your immediate supervisor or your HR department. The consequence of your withdrawal of consent will be that the university must, as soon as possible, cease processing the data covered by your consent, unless the university has another legal basis for continued processing. If processing continues on another legal basis than consent, you will be notified of this and informed of the purpose of the continued processing”.